Sorabji Eco Club

Nature is regarded as a force which manages human existence. Over the last few years natural disasters like flood, earth quakes, land-slides, species extinction etc. are disrupting the biophysical conditions that make earth a suitable place for all species. The disbalance in ecosystem on which human life depends has threatened and endangered the very existence of human life. The drastic changes in the climate urgently warrants a comprehensive global attention and demands co-ordinated collective measures at individual, societal, national and international level. Constant efforts are being made across the globe by various local and global organizations to sensitize the community about the exhaustive nature of our valuable natural resources and the need to preserve them.

Eco clubs play an important role in creating environmental awareness amongst students. It is a platform where we can sensitize students towards their roles and duties for environment. Sorabji Eco club has been constituted to make students aware of the importance of environment in their lives and to contribute towards a cleaner and greener society. Eco Club will sensitize the students about the exhaustive nature of our valuable natural resources and the need to preserve them. The club will work to instil environmental awareness among students through various activities, thereby, ensuring an environmentally aware and responsible community.
